

L^AT_EX ltuslides Example

Roland Hostettler

Division of Systems and Interaction
Department of Computer Science, Electrical and Space Engineering
Luleå University of Technology

June 10, 2014

Simple Bullet Lists

- First item
... with some small text below.
- Second item
... with some more text.
- Falsches Üben von Xylophonmusik quält jeden größeren Zwerg.
... it really does!
- ...
... and so forth ...

Text & Image

- The picture below was taken from www.flickr.com/photos/_ra3yat_bmw_-/3144132890 (licensed as CC BY 2.0)

Two Columns

Column 1

- You create slides with two columns using the environments `slide` and `column`
- Some text using `itemize` on the left and the right
- Note how the columns are nicely aligned at the top

Column 2

- Note that the `column` environment doesn't take a parameter
- If you want to add column titles like on this slide, just use `subsection` above your `itemize`.

Two Columns, One Picture

- Sometimes, you might want to have a picture besides text
- This slide shows an example for that
- It also uses `slide` and `column`
- Note that the image is centred horizontally in its column using the `center` environment

Two Columns on Top, an Image at the Bottom

- You can also place two columns besides each other on top (or at the bottom for that matter) and some content at the bottom, as done here
- Just always make sure that everything fits on one slide, otherwise it might get ugly

